

Judy Joseph Hamlin's life was a real-life Orange County housewife, she had it all, big house, Mercedes-Benz, the designer clothes. However behind all their material possessions lay the bitter arguments and crushing estrangement of a lifeless, loveless marriage. Though it took years for Judy to admit that money wasn't enough, she found the courage to divorce. Starting over without the wealth and social status that she once enjoyed, Judy struggled to pursue her dream of becoming a teacher while building a better life for herself and her children. Judy now has a master's degree and is credentialized in special education. She is currently a teacher in Newport Beach, California. 'From Riches to Happiness' is her first book. Since the book's initial release, Judy has received recognition from numerous book review organizations for her efforts and has been a guest on Talk Radio. She continues to teach and write for personal and public acknowledgement of the issues women face on a daily basis.
